

CALLING ALL
SCIENCE &
SOCIAL STUDIES
EDUCATORS!

CELF Civic Science: Inquiry to Action An Interdisciplinary Place-Based Education Program

Looking to reinspire yourself AND your students in 2022?

Join a multi-state cohort of 5th-12th grade educators to apply CELF's Inquiry to Action framework to real-world learning in your school community. This program is designed to support science and social studies educators at any point in their civic science journey.

- Engage in 6 virtual, synchronous sessions
  - Tuesday and Thursday evenings: Feb. 1-17
- Present with your students in a virtual student symposium (Mar. 11)
- Explore topics of water, air, or biodiversity
- Learn data collection methods for students
- Empower student action in your school community
- Document civic science projects & share your story

Want to learn more? Reach out to Vicky: victoria@celfeducation.org or visit our website at celfeducation.org

FULL TUITION SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE TO THE FIRST 40 APPLICANTS, PLUS STIPEND OPPORTUNITIES FOR THOSE WHO COMPLETE THE PROGRAM!

Click here for more information and to APPLY

“ THANK YOU FOR THE LIFE-CHANGING EXPERIENCE! ”
Mike Garguilo, Science Teacher, Sleepy Hollow Middle School, NY

Funded in part by the National Geographic Society, Linde PLC, and the San Diego Foundation.

