

2022 SUMMER INSTITUTE

BUFFALO, NY
JULY 6 & 7, 2022
8:00am - 3:30pm ET

Going for the Green: Sustainable Schools hosted at Ken-Ton

This 2-day (14 hours) in person institute will introduce Education for Sustainability within the context of your classroom and school. Join Buffalo region school teachers and administrators to apply sustainability as a lens for learning to connect curriculum, culture and community. Participants will use CELF's Big Ideas of Sustainability to enhance teaching practices and engage in transdisciplinary systems thinking.

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING FOR K-12 EDUCATORS

Takeaways:

- Develop or redesign a lesson or activity integrating the Big Ideas of Sustainability
- Strategize on steps to achieve the National Green Ribbon Award
- Collaborate with district stakeholders to develop school action plans
- Experience a field trip to Niagara Greenway (5-minute drive away!)
- Gain access to CELF's EfS resources

EFS RESOURCES | TEAM COLLABORATION | SYSTEMS THINKING

TO REGISTER,
CLICK HERE!

For more information, please contact Lisa Mechaley
lisa@celfeducation.org

"I thoroughly enjoyed all the activities and new colleagues I met. The multiple perspectives were thought provoking. I have been energized and re-committed myself to make changes in my life first and then wherever my influence has power. It was important to be a team at this conference. One person cannot do it all."

Lisa Davidson,
Instructional Specialist for Science K-12
Kenmore-Tonawanda UFSD

Made possible with generous support from Making our world

more productive